

Geology Honors Exceptional Reviewers

A journal relies on its referees. Ideally, referees should accept as many review requests as possible and return their reviews in a timely manner. Ideally, they should also be perspicacious, incisive, and fair, remarking equally on the strengths and weaknesses of a manuscript. As many editors have commented, the ideal reviewer reviews as he or she would like himself or herself to be reviewed. As a token of our appreciation for reviewers who have fulfilled these demanding criteria, the editors of Geology have nominated the following as “exceptional reviewers.”
